

Business Migration Second Stage (Resident) Application Form

To be eligible to apply for Tasmanian state visa nomination, you must first meet all the business migration requirements set out by the Department of Immigration and Citizenship \(DIAC\). You must assess your visa eligibility prior to seeking nomination.

To avoid processing delays, the following documents must be included with this sponsorship application

- DIAC Form 949, with the relevant sections completed
- proof that throughout the 12 months immediately prior to this application being lodged, your main business (or businesses) employed the equivalent of at least one (1) full time employee who is an Australian citizen, Australian permanent resident or New Zealand passport holder, and who is not a member of your family unit
- proof that throughout the 12 months immediately prior to this application being lodged, the net value of your combined personal and business assets in Australia has been at least AUD250 000
- proof your business turnover was at least AUD200,000

Note that this application form must be completed in English; there is no fee charged by the Tasmanian Government for visa nomination; and any documents submitted which are not required for your application assessment will be destroyed.

Nominations from the Tasmanian Government are valid for six (6) months, and are not transferable to any other State or Territory. The unit reserves the right to revoke nomination at this time. If you are unable to lodge your visa application within the six month timeframe, you must contact the unit for further information.

State visa nomination does not mean that a visa will automatically be granted. You must satisfy various visa requirements set by DIAC, which include health and character checks. The Tasmanian Government is not responsible for issuing visas.
